

The Turkey Tango

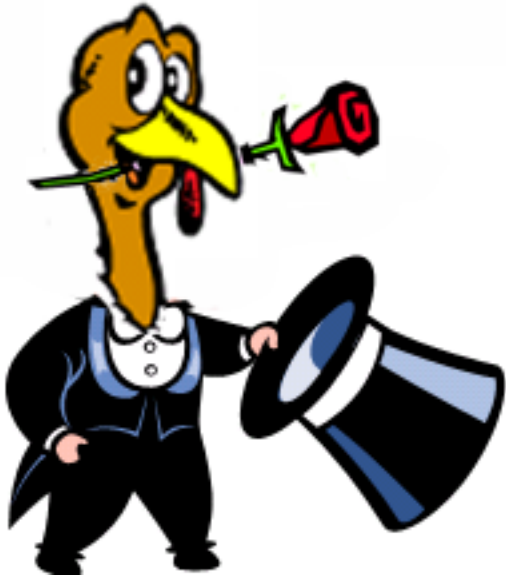

by Teresa Jennings, Music K-8,
Volume 8, Number 2

© 1997 Plank Road Publishing
Used with permission.
All rights reserved.

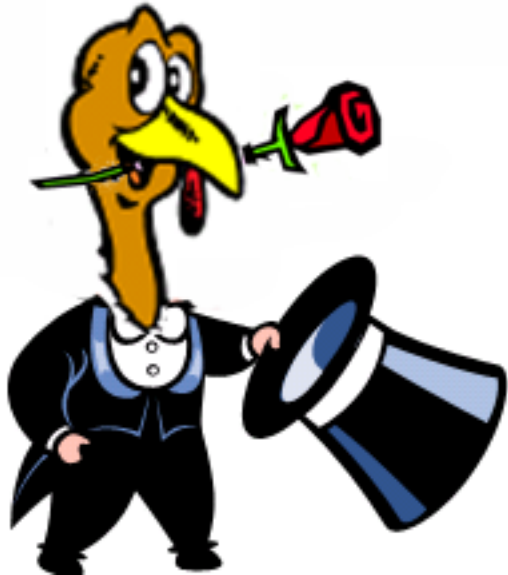

I taught my turkey
how to tango...
His name is Fred.
He's from Durango...

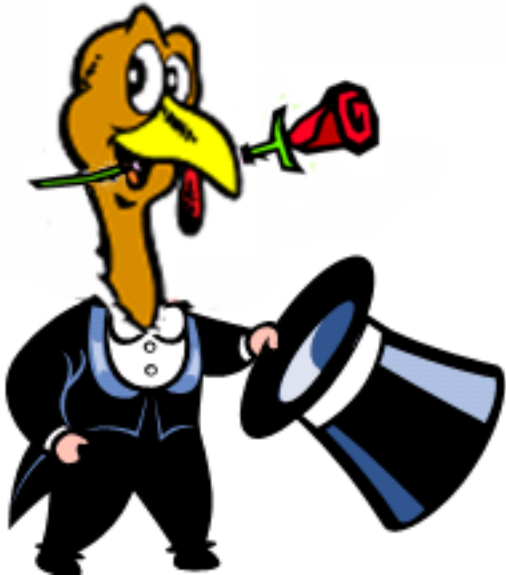

In a tux, he looks so
chic, with a rose
held in his beak.

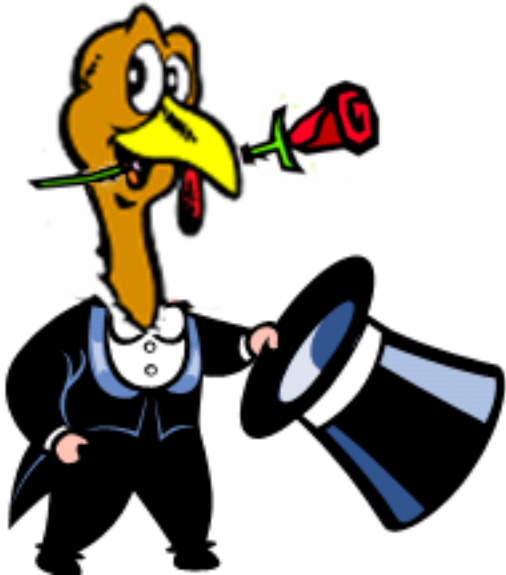

And he does a nice
fandango.

Now Freddie teaches
how to tango...

to all his buddies
from Durango...

Peter Panda,

Betty Bear-

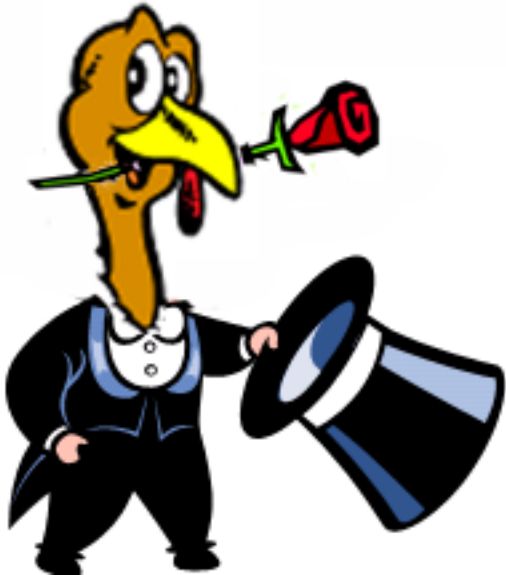

they all think he's

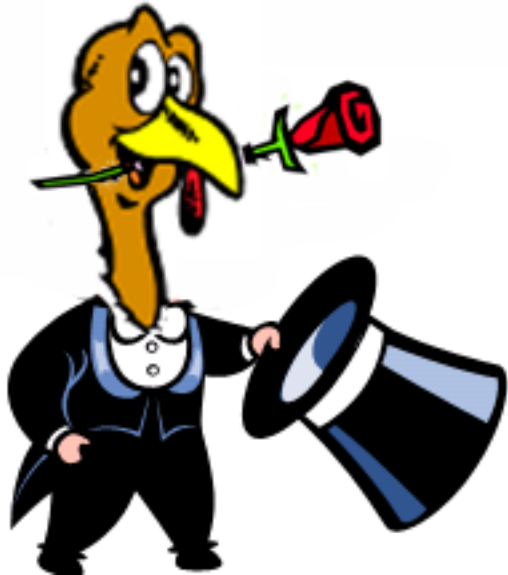

Fred Astaire-

even Al Oragutango.

He's suave and graceful...

He would never trip
or hobble...

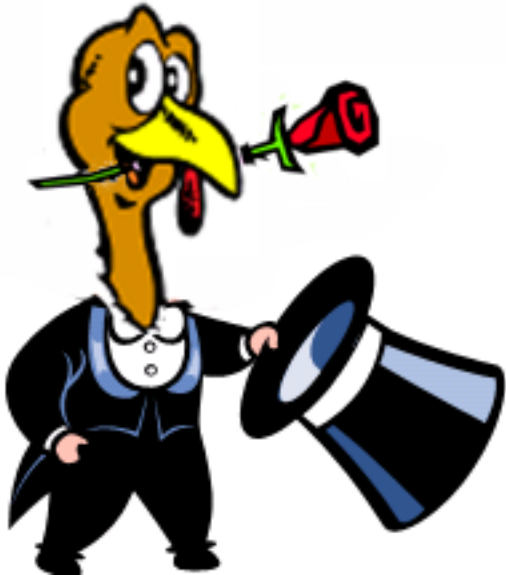

He's got that polish...
like a diamond or a bauble.

He's fine and clever...

and his feathers
never wobble...

Though it is true that...

when he dances,
he will gobble.

